MEMPHIS APPEAL.

A PROMISE OF DAWN FOR POLAND.

The New York Times, after speaking of the domestic progress of Austria, says that her foreign influence has of late revived in a marvelous manner, and adds:

Whereas formerly her weight in European politics was estimated merely by the number of men she could bring into the field—and the natural antagonism of many races went far to neutralize that weight—she now exercises an appreciable influence of a very different nature. For Austria to appear in the character of a champion of oppressed nationalities is certainly startling enough, but more unlikely things have happened of late years. Prince Ladislaus Czartoryski, the most prominent and trusted known Polish exile, has recently issued a very remarkable statement of what he considers the true Polish policy for the future. Despairing of further unaided revolutionary attempts against Russia, he looks for help, increasingly as it would have seemed but a few years ago, to Austria. "Order reigns at Warsaw," and even sanguine Polish patriots are beginning to abandon hope of armed resistance to the countless hosts of the Czar. But in the Austrian Province of Galicia, 3½ out of the 5½ millions of inhabitants are Poles. They have already obtained great and liberal concessions from the Imperial government, and, taking into consideration the success of Hungarian self government, it would be no matter for surprise should Galicia ere long attain a position in relation to the Austrian Empire of somewhat analogous character. It would then become an organized Polish community, protected by at least one great Power, and always ready to act as a center of attraction, in time of any great European conflict, toward the other fragments of dismembered Poland. Austria, without Venice to hold down, without Italy ready to spring at her throat, with Hungary well affected, and with a certain solidarity of interests with the entire Polish race, would possess enormous power in a European war. As Napoleon, for example, her alliance would be invaluable. We can scarcely go so far as an English Journal, which expresses its belief that Prince Czartoryski's "new Polish programme" has been inspired by Napoleon, and already tacitly approved by Austria. The simple germ of a man in Prince Czartoryski's position enunciating such a policy is significant enough. A glance at its possible effect on European politics shows its importance.

The United States have their Ireland and Poland in the Southern States. They imagine that they are reconstructing the Union, by giving the political power of the South to the negroes, and empowering them to disfranchise and to oppress by the extortion of vindictive taxation the white people of this unhappy land. Even those Republicans who have not deemed these measures of reconstruction wise, insist that no step ought now to be taken backward. They say, in the words of the Times:

The country cannot afford to have these questions reopened. It cannot afford to postpone the restoration of the Union, in order that these battles may be fought over again. It demands restoration upon some basis, at the earliest possible moment. It requires the presence of the Southern States again in Congress, to aid in securing wise legislation for their own interests, and in regard to their own affairs. It needs the South as a check upon the sectional struggles that are inevitable for supremacy in the control of public affairs. The interests of the South—the temper of the South—the principles and policy of the South, all are essential elements in the governing forces of the nation, and should be represented in the workings of the Government. It is for lack of them that the country has suffered—that legislation has been one-sided and awry—for the last three years.

And rabid Radicalism cries, with the New York Tribune:

The Southern States are just ready to have their reconstruction perfected. It is not the fault of their loyal people that they have not been ready before. There has been too much delay in calling Conventions and in submitting Constitutions; but six States are now organizing at the doors of Congress, where Virginia, Mississippi, and Texas will soon follow them. We want to see the very last State admitted, her self-government perfected, Military rule superseded, and the Freedmen's Bureau withdrawn, before Congress adjourns. We shall thus have won every thing toward the Reconstruction we hope for. On the contrary we fervently wish that the future held out to us other hopes. We speak of that which the coming years are to disclose, as we should if we were a foreigner, dispassionately looking on from a distance, and endeavoring to judge of that which is to occur here in the future, by what has occurred elsewhere in the past. Human nature remains the same in all the ages; and the day will never come when to follow civil war with disfranchisements and disqualifications and insults and degradations, and to set the inferior race above the superior one, or attempt to make one the political equal of the other, will not produce an eternal hatred, and a thirst for vengeance that no length of time will diminish. As the Celt hates the Saxon, so these miserable measures will cause the Southern whites to hate the North.

In the body of the great order of Freemasons, the animosities of the war have already died out, and we meet together once more as brothers. Among those who served in the armies of the two belligerents, the case is in a great measure the same. Only a few days since we met a Federal officer who courteously sought to know us. A young lady, curious to know how we at once became like old acquaintances, asked him if he was a Mason. "No," he said, "but there is another kind of Masonry between us; that of men who have served against each other in the field."

But such is not the spirit that inspires the scum that has risen to the surface, amid the disturbances and convulsions of the times. This generous and manly spirit is not that of those who, unfortunately for the country, misdirect and mismanage our National affairs,—the Sumners, Stevenses, Wades, Colfaxes, Butlers, Binghams, Boutwells, Covodes and Logans. Theirs is the very lunacy of malice and hate, or the cold calculation of sordid partizan self-interest; and of these motives, the fatal and mad measures of reconstruction have been born.

Poland has borne her yoke, not patiently, but often attempting to throw it off, for fifty years; and at length the promise of a dawn of redemption for her begins to arise; and one of the very Powers to which all her misfortunes have been owing, seems about to be the instrument of Divine Providence to redeem her from bondage. The redemption of the South will not be delayed forty years. The great Northwestern States are being rapidly forced into a position of antagonism to the Northeast; and must soon begin to look South for alliances. There is identity of interests and mutual intercourse among all the States of the Mississippi Valley. In a little while New England will have as little sympathy with those States, and they with her, as they now have with Canada. She will not always be allowed to have her twelve votes in the Senate, to dictate protective tariffs, taxes on cotton, and payment of the bonds of the United States in gold. Her love for the Union has always been the offspring of self-interest. Like her religious toleration, it has always been hypocritical pretence. The only Union tolerable for her is one from which she can reap pecuniary profit and make her will, her prejudices and her notions the law. She would far rather rule the South by force than by the influences of kindness, affection and gratitude. She will pay dearly, some day, for the devilments of which she is the chief author in the South. The day of the Divine retribution is often long delayed; but it always comes at last. Try all it can, as England tried for centuries, the oppressing State cannot make the oppressed one powerless; and the hate of the conquered is always dangerous to the victor.

An Unjust Slur.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

In the report of the committee of the Draymen's meeting, I find the following:

"That we waited on Hon. T. A. Hamilton and F. S. Richards, our leading Representative and Senator, and they severally expressed the opinion," etc.

This is nonsense, as neither Hamilton nor Richards is Senator, and the designation of either of them as "leading" Representative, seems an unjust fling at the Hon. Mr. Ryder. It may have been unintentional, but I am satisfied it never would have been made if the committee had known that Mr. Ryder was fully as influential in the Legislature as either of the gentlemen named. Mr. Ryder is himself a working man, and he did more than Mr. Richards, and ten times as much as Mr. Hamilton, for the interests of white working people. Mr. Ryder's merits can be certified to by Messrs. Cubbins and Black, the delegates from the working men of Memphis to urge the passage of the mechanics' lien law. It will be sustained, if need be, by other witnesses and by reference to the measures before the Legislature.

I do not wish to detract from the merits of any honorable gentleman, but I know that Mr. Richards, serving as Speaker of the House, and very efficient in that capacity, could not give as much attention to measures as Mr. Ryder did. I know, also, that while Mr. Ryder was working for the interests of mechanics and other working people, Mr. Hamilton was mainly occupied in trying to create offices for negroes, so that he could thus secure the negro vote for his nominated for Congress. I can prove that there is a wish to make flings at Mr. Ryder because he was not sufficiently unscrupulous in pandering to the wishes of demagogues who affect to control the negro vote, and I fear that unconsciously the Draymen's committee have been used. Whether so or not, the use of the word "leading" is calculated to prejudice the minds of many against the Hon. M. T. Ryder, who was a faithful, sensible and useful Representative—sustaining fairly the rights of blacks, but not forever riding the hobby of the negro and extreme Radicalism. If a distinction has to be drawn, he was, in ability, in influence with the House and especially with the Senate, in attention to business, and the prosecution of measures for the general good, the "leading" Representative from Shelby county.

Yours, FAIR PLAY.

—On the 28th ult., a freedman named Henry Wheeler, was shot and killed at Marshallville, a few miles below Fort Valley, Ga., under the following circumstances: "Wheeler had a child hired to the mother of W. C. Staley, and going for her early in the morning to take her away, he said or did something which caused Mrs. Staley to go into spasms. Mr. Staley coming in while in that condition, thought her dying, and instantly went in pursuit of Wheeler, and struck him with a whip, when the other, attempting to draw a pistol, was shot by his assailant, who was admitted to bail in $5000."

GEORGIA.

—An affair of honor came off at Screven's Ferry, below Savannah, on the 21st, between Messrs. John Griffin and R. Wayne Russel, of the latter place. Result—one round fired, nobody hurt. Difficulty amicably adjusted.

—The west side of Bay street, Newnan, was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning, about 3 o'clock—supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Several business men were ruined by the fire.

—The Alberton Academy was burned down on the night of the 21st, by an incendiary. The citizens offer a reward of $1000 for his arrest.

—A young man named Dennis had a difficulty with some freedmen near Thompson, which resulted in Dennis killing one negro with a wagon spoke, breaking the arm of a second, and shooting a third.

—The Athens Banner of the 29th ult., says: The weather for several days has been quite warm and dry. This is, we believe, regarded as favorable to the wheat crop, which will soon be ready for harvesting. Indeed, we learn that some has already been cut in this vicinity.

—The Macon Telegraph says of wheat: Clear out the old crop and prepare for the new. Down with your prices, for there is enough and to spare.

—The Bainbridge Georgian reports that the recent heavy rains in that section have caused great injury to the fruit crop. The young peaches have fallen in large quantities, and the worms are making sad havoc with what remains on the trees.

—The Macon Telegraph says of Southwest Georgia: Our traveling agent writes from Smithville, that the crops are backward, much retarded by heavy rains and storms lately, but the gardens are in a flourishing condition every where—vegetables larger and better than he ever saw them; farmers hopeful they will make plenty; business all along the railroad very dull, and merchants complaining.

—The Columbus Sun says: We learn that no one has yet been found to take the "iron-clad" and be qualified as Judge of the Pataula Circuit, to take the place of Judge Clarke, removed.

—Maj. Forsyth, of Montezuma, was drowned in a millpond near Americus, on the 23d ult. He went into the pond to bathe, and is supposed to have been taken with cramp. His remains were recovered the next day.

—The Augusta Chronicle of the 29th ult., says: The body of Mr. Edw. Crooker, a young man well known in this city, was found near the farm of the late Chas. Carter, Esq. The verdict of the Coroner's Inquest was that his death was caused by laudanum administered by his own hands.

—The Griffin Herald says that a private letter received there from Dahlonega contains the following sentence: "The investigations to-day exhibited the most stupendous frauds in the Dawson county election."

—The Macon papers tell of a rich affair which has occurred in that city, concerning a Yankee school marm who came South to inculcate New England enormous ideas into the darkey children. She had eighteen little black day scholars, and over that number at night. She fell in love with an ebony freedman in the employ of Greer & Lake. In several affectionate letters she styles him "My Dear Arthur," and the documents are full of "tender love," etc. She, however, has come to grief. She forged an order on Tuesday to the firm mentioned, for some eight or ten dollars' worth of family groceries. To the order she signed the name of Mrs. Wills, wife of the Presbyterian pastor of Macon. The goods were sent, when the forgery was discovered, and the dispenser of the Gospel and learning in a correct manner was arrested and lodged in jail. The articles were taken from her. The case was before the grand jury on Thursday. Her name is given as "Amanda Fawier" by one paper, and "Lawler" by the other.

SUMMER RESORTS.

SUMMER RESORT.
Ransdall House,
Madison, Wisconsin,
B. JEFFERSON, : PROPRIETOR.

THIS is a new and thoroughly modern Hotel in every particular. Madison is very justly termed by Bayard Taylor the Eden City of the West. Situated as it is in the immediate vicinity of four beautiful little inland lakes, which abound in the various varieties of trout, water fish, and whose surface is dotted with little steam and sail vessels, devoted entirely to purposes of pleasure, whose monotonous pebbly beaches are occasionally interspersed by its mossy boulder, overshadowed by heavy foliage, and from whose outer borders are opened the broad prairies for which the West is so noted—the wild game which affords such lively sporting amusement from earliest autumn. Madison is distant 120 miles northwest from Chicago, and can be reached in 3½ hours from Memphis (all rail), and with only two changes of cars (Cairo and Chicago). Its adjacency to Memphis, its salubrious atmosphere, and, above all, the economy, recommends it to families in this vicinity. Parties can send their families to remain during the heated term at a fourth less in cost as compared to Saratoga and other eastern resorts. mas1 2ms

The name of the author should of itself be a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Ill. Bro. Pike, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. Pike alone is due the honor of first exploring this branch of Masonic literature and of opening to the admiration of the craft its vast storehouse of knowledge and beauty. This work contains the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite from the fourth to the fourteenth inclusive, is elegantly illustrated with chromo-lithograph engravings, showing all the jewels, costume, furniture, etc., belonging to each degree. No expense has been spared in getting it up, and it is without doubt the most elegant, as well as one of the most useful books, ever offered to the Fraternity.

DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT JAMES BUCHANAN.

Another of the links that bound the present to the past has been broken. James Buchanan died at Wheatland at 8:30 a.m. on the first day of the present month. He was born in Franklin county, Penn., on the 23d of April 1791, and was, consequently, 77 years one month and eight days old at the time of his decease. He was educated at Dickinson College, chose the legal profession, was elected to the Legislature in 1814, and to Congress in 1821, and served in that body till 1831, when he declined a re-election. He was in that year appointed Ambassador to Russia, by President Jackson, and on his return in 1834, was elected to the U. S. Senate, to which he was re-elected in 1837 and 1843. He resigned his seat in 1845 to accept the Secretaryship of State under President Polk, at the close of whose administration he retired to Wheatland, whence he was drawn to go as Minister to the Court of St. James, to which duty he was assigned by President Pierce in 1853. In 1856 he was nominated for the Presidency by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati, to which he was elected and served the term with great ability, although incurring odium for events that he could not control, without invading the sanctity of the Constitution, which he had sworn to obey and protect. This closed the long official career of the deceased, and the part he played in the life-drama in which he took an active interest through so many years, belongs to the historian when he shall weave our annals into a fair fabric, now so warped by passion and prejudice. De mortuis nil nisi bonum.

CHARGE TO THE GRAND JURY.

Our local columns to-day are enriched by a document of unusual interest to the citizens of Memphis. We allude to Judge Waldran's charge to the Grand Jury, who are invited to take the police system in hand, which has heretofore been most obnoxious to our citizens, because those having it in charge have held themselves irresponsible to any power, and even to public opinion. We took occasion, sometime since, to refer to the illegal demands made upon illegal establishments which were protected by the payment of black mail, levied for no public benefit, and under no known law, to swell the revenues of the police. While the Grand Jury are making this examination, it will be well not to overlook that small matter involving the County Commissioner and his friend, the Prosecuting Attorney. Let that, too, have proper consideration.

THINGS AT WASHINGTON.

The special correspondent of the Louisville Journal telegraphs that paper the political gossip from the Federal City on the 31st ult. In regard to the proposed Pendleton Escort, we have seen much in the Cincinnati papers, and ourselves received a circular explaining the terms on which members of the escort are enrolled. We do not affect the idea, although the friends of the distinguished Western statesman may deem the influence of numbers important to guard as well as promote the chances of their favorite to the candidacy. There should be none of this thing, and it presupposes that undue influences will be brought to bear upon the selection to propitiate certain interests, while true patriotism, and the great cause which should be nearest the American heart, would insist that the delegates who shall assemble in Convention be left untrammeled, to determine upon consultation, who should be the standard-bearer, and he should be above all the champion of the people's rights, who has the best assurances of victory. Nothing should interpose between Radical defeat and the triumph of Conservative principles. The one, unselfish, and transcendent object should be to select the man of all others, who possesses the popular confidence, and whose antecedents are such as to inspire the conviction that his administration will be conformable to the public demand and necessity, in view of a return to constitutional government, the protection of the rights of the States and of the people. Bargains are out of the question. While those who make them may redeem their pledges, so far as they, themselves, are concerned, by what right, or on what authority, can they transfer a people en masse, to perfect promises in which the people themselves have not been consulted, or their wishes heeded. The stake is too great to be played for, and schemes in the interest of individuals, that do not look to the great aim and end to be accomplished, if entertained at all, should be abandoned, No private interests are to be subserved but should be entirely subordinate to the general welfare which alone should be consulted. We may have a preference for men; we may have cardinal objects which we think should be paramount, but men and favorite measures must be secondary, must give way before the sublime effort to restore the Government to its traditional and long respected observances, through its functions properly exercised. To look back for a single decade, all must feel that we are not what we were, and it is only possible to recover some of the lost ground by rescuing the fragments from the vandals who are bent upon the utter destruction of everything once honored and revered. The duty before the National Convention is one of absorbing interest and unparalelled magnitude. It must be performed with unselfish hearts, and cool, calm, clear, unbiased judgment. The fate of the nation, the happiness of the people, the hope of mankind depend upon its arbitrament. All minor considerations, all private ambitions must be yielded a willing and patriotic sacrifice upon the altar of the country. With these brief suggestions, we leave the reader with the Washington gossip, gathered by the special correspondent of the Journal:

The friends of Mr. Pendleton are more confident at this moment than they have been at any time since the beginning of the campaign for the New York nomination. They say that he will carry such a large majority on the first ballot as will insure him a two-thirds vote on the next. They also say that Gen. Hancock will consent to take the second place on the ticket with Pendleton, but the prevailing sentiment favors young John Quincy Adams, or Seymour, of Connecticut, for Vice-President. The escort from the West is expected to have a good effect in resisting outside pressure from New York. But even the New York delegation is divided. I am told that Pendleton is sure for nearly half its members already.

There is a good deal of fear expressed lest the President will not support the nominee of the Democratic party. But I am able to give you some positive information on this head. In conversation with an Indiana politician who called at the White House yesterday to congratulate its occupant upon his acquittal, the subject came up. The Indianian suggested that the Democrats are a little afraid of the President.

"What are they afraid of?" Mr. Johnson asked. "Do they think I'm not a good enough Democrat? Is not my record sound enough? What is the matter?"

"They think you have not come out square enough in your appointments."

"Do they mean Schofield?"

"Yes, that's one thing."

"How could I do any better? I had to take what I could get. The Senate would not confirm any one else."

"But they say you are not in sympathy with the Democratic party."

"I don't know what you call in sympathy. I certainly have done what I could against the Radicals. I was born and raised a Democrat, and consider myself as good a one at this moment as I ever was in my life."

"Do you mean to support, if I may be allowed to ask, the New York nominee?"

"I can't do anything else. I've no where else to go. If I did not I could not do otherwise. The Democrats are too suspicious of me. They are too exacting. They don't do me justice. If they'll go on and do right, they may always be easy about Andy Johnson."

The effort to get up a third party is not yet abandoned. If Mr. Chase consents it will be accomplished. If not, it will fall through. The European trip I spoke of yesterday is doubtless a plan of the Chief Justice to fly temptation, or, at least, to shirk responsibility. His friends, however, have not yet despaired of the Democratic nomination.

Seymour positively authorizes the statement to be made public that he will not consent to the presentation of his name to the Convention. He considers it important to select somebody whose strength is sufficient to insure his election. He thinks his record or Pendleton's open to constant attacks.

Grant's friends accuse Ben Butler of conspiring to make the Republican party so odious that it will be defeated in November. There is still no peace between Grant and Butler. They naturally hate each other, and Butler thinks if he could defeat Grant he himself would become the leader, as he is now the Iago of the party. This view of the subject is gaining ground among Republicans.

The Radical ratification meeting held here last night was a miserable failure. It was composed chiefly of negroes, with a few scattering white faces. The speeches were vapid and unimportant.

The alienation of the moderate Republicans is likely to defeat the admission of all the Southern States except Arkansas, whose delegation is likely to get in.

A PLEASANT PICTURE.

Those Conservatives, if any are left in this region, who are still in favour of guaranteeing the negro the right of suffrage and scrambling for his vote, will enjoy the following picture of those of their opinion elsewhere, from the New York Tribune:

Suppose ten years ago any man had said: "The day will come when the leaders and candidates of the great pro-slavery Democratic party—the cotton Kings of the South—will be found coaxing their ignorant black field-hands to vote for their aristocracy's favorite candidate." Such a prophet would have been looked upon as fit only for the wards of a lunatic asylum. Yet, during the recent elections, this Democratic begging for negro votes has been conspicuous and notorious. The friends of Maj.-Gen. Gordon, Democratic candidate for Governor of Georgia, regularly organized their forces to proselyte among the negroes; their papers teemed with accounts of "colored Democratic" meeting, and "our colored fellow-citizens" took the place of "niggers" in their vocabulary. And it is true that a great many negroes did vote for "the good old masse" who whipped, branded, and sold their fathers and mothers, and even themselves, in other days. We do not blame the negroes; but what shall we say of the "chivalry" who damn the nigger in the lump, yet sneak around with a plug of tobacco and bottle of whisky to get the vote of the nigger as an individual? And this is Democracy as it is.

If we had no other objection to negro suffrage, it would be sufficient that after a little time, under its operation, no man fit to be elected would be chosen to fill any office, because none would be candidates but those who were willing to descend to the level of the negro, and consort with him and become his mate and companion, to solicit his vote; and that, if any man of pride of character and with the feelings of self-respect that should actuate a gentleman, were to engage in a rivalry with the low and base for negro votes, he would soon fall, like Lucifer, from his high estate, and become as sordid, as low, and as lost as they. Negro suffrage is the accursed enchantment that, like that of the malignant magician of old, will destroy the souls of men, by inspiring them with the grovelling instincts of swine. That is precisely what those in the North who hate the men of the South desire. They are not satisfied to have conquered us. Victory is defeat to them, until they can degrade and debase the men they have overcome, and humiliate and humble them, until they are willing to crouch to and fawn on even those of their own colour whom the very negroes despise. And the Tribune's coarse ribaldry, its exultation at the humiliation of those who have attempted to win the negroes to vote for them or their ticket, disclose the bitter, devilish malignity, of that journal, and those to suit whose tastes and utter whose sentiments it is published.

One platform only, on the subject of negro suffrage, is fit to be adopted by the South. We have stood upon it from the beginning. It is total exclusion of the negro race from the right of suffrage, now and always, and retention of all political power by the white men of the country. The man who asks negro votes need never expect ours.

SUPREME COURT OF TENNESSEE.

Brownsville, June Term, 1868.

Sheppard vs. Brown—From Haywood.

This is a bill filed to enjoin a judgment before a Justice of the Peace, on the ground that there was no service of process, although the return of the officer showed service of the writ. Held—1st. That writ of error coram nobis does not lie in a case of this kind, because in that proceeding the officer's return cannot be contradicted. 2d. A bill in Chancery does lie in that case, and on proof of the want of service, the judgment will be perpetually enjoined.

Moore vs Hill.—From Tipton.

Facts: Defendant executed to plaintiff his promissory note, calling for 10 per cen. interest on its face. The note was executed after the repeal of the conventional interest law of 1860, but before either party was aware of the repeal. This is a bill in Chancery to enforce its collection. Held: That the rule at law not allowing a party to maintain an action on a contract illegal on its face, applies as well to proceedings in equity; and the ignorance of the parties of the repeal of the statute makes no difference in this case.

Young vs. Page, Wilson & Co.

A vendor filed his bill against vendee to enforce his lien for the purchase money, and made a mortgagee of the vendee also a party. A part of the purchase money was due at the filing of the bill, and part fell due afterwards. The mortgagee filed cross bill to foreclose his mortgage, subject to the vendor's lien. A hearing was had on the original bill alone, and decree had in favor of the vendor ordering the sale of the land not only for the money due at the filing of the original bill, but also for that which fell due afterwards; from which decree the mortgagee appealed. Held: 1. The safer and better practice, generally, is to hear the bill and cross bill together. 2. The mortgagee having been made a party by the vendor, his rights must be fully protected, and the cause will be remanded, to give the mortgagee the opportunity of contesting, if he can, the existence of the debt which matured since the filing of the bill, which the original plaintiff failed to set up by supplemental bill, or otherwise.

Thomas vs. Rhodes.

Facts: B. Rhodes loaned gold to M. Rhodes, and took notes payable in gold, bearing interest on their face at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum. B. Rhodes was of weak mind, not capable of appreciating the nature and extent of his contracts. Held: 1. That in equity he will have relief, although the contract is illegal on its face. 2. The relief will be the amount loaned and lawful interest, dischargeable in legal tender treasury notes.

NEW ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 31, 1868

Editors Memphis Appeal:

The claims of the poor and friendless to the succor of those who are more fortunate, have ever been recognised in this city with unparalleled liberality. Remembering this laudable fact, with the circumstance that no people under the sun are fonder of open air amusements than the Creole population of Louisiana, and one is at no loss to understand the pecuniary success of the fete Champetre, which has been the sole topic discussed on the streets or in the clubs and salons during the past week. Fully twenty thousand persons visited the fair grounds during the first three days of the entertainments, and the total number of visitors during the five days it continued open, will not fall far short of thirty to thirty-five thousand individuals, of all ages, sexes and conditions. This charity is void of denominational bias—Catholics and Protestants sharing equally in the distribution of the proceeds. Hence the unanimity with which the votaries of all sects and creeds have contributed to the fund which, it is believed, will aggregate eighteen or twenty thousand dollars. Mule and hurdle racing, contests between teams in harness, soirees dansante every evening, fire works, and a brilliant tournament on Saturday, constituted the attractions offered, and each were good of their kind, but to us the most really attractive feature of the week was the display of juvenile horsemanship on Thursday, wherein lads of twelve to fifteen rode ponies over hurdles, and otherwise exhibited skill in the menage which would have been highly creditable to full-grown jockies. The glorious little cavaliers were allowed to select a Queen of May and her attendant maids of honor, as a reward for the prowess shown, and very dainty seemed their taste, if one must judge by the difficulty which they appeared to experience in discovering their preference, or finding the diminutive fair one previously selected, for it was a long while before this part of the programme was satisfactorily arranged. When this completed, the Fairy Court was a picture of budding loveliness long to be recalled with exceeding pleasure, and the gallant deportment of the young masters, and coy gracefulness of the misses at the succeeding ball, conclusively proved the careful attention bestowed on their culture for the salon, on the best system of French politeness—than which there is nothing superior in the beau monde. In this connection, however, we must be permitted respectfully to say, that from our observation of French people at home, this elegant polish and grace of manner has been cultivated but too often to the partial exclusion of the higher qualities of the head and heart more appreciated by the less imaginative and impressible Americans.

Notwithstanding the liberal patronage extended to this fete Champetre of the society Français, the complaint of hard times and complete stagnation in business is as general as it has been this season; and an unpleasant illustration of its truth was afforded yesterday in the suspension of the St. James Hotel, which has, probably, closed its doors until other more pecuniarily solid lessees may venture to reopen them for another and more promising term. The only remaining hotel claiming to be first class, is the St. Charles, which is of course benefited by this disaster to a rival. GUMBO.

—Thomas Quinn, an old citizen of Vicksburg, died on Saturday night last.

—A little son of Mr. Lackay, of Marion, was accidentally shot by his brother, in the abdomen, on Sunday of last week. It is thought he will recover.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Somebody, who is keen on the scent of testing the elasticity of the English language, says: The Allbutross is not Ben Wade's ornithological favorite.

—At the Springfield armory the April payments were $35,000. This sum is a heavy falling off from war times, when the monthly disbursements ran up to $185,000.

—Christopher Townsend, of Newport, R. I., has given $10,000 to found a "Home for Friendless Children."

—Keno is a town in Nevada, one month old, and has 500 inhabitants.

—The New York Herald of the 30th ult., says "Chase and Dix is a ticket that would carry the country with a tremendous sweep." This is evidently one of the Herald's jokes, as it says: "If any man dares to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot, should be the first plank in the platform." That might have applied at Fort Pillow.

—Great efforts are being made to get Callicott's deserved punishment remitted or lessened. If some poor starving wretch were convicted of a petty theft to allay hunger, whose sympathy would do as much?

—Why is it that the House refused to place three Democatic members on the Impeachment Corruption Committee on the 29th ult.? Several Radicals voted for it but it failed.

RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, June 3—The United States Court met this morning, Chief Justice Chase and Judge Underwood presiding.

The Chief Justice called the case of Jefferson Davis, when Mr. Anderson, of Mississippi, one of the counsel for the defense, read an agreement for the postponement till October, signed by Evarts and O'Conor.

The Chief Justice then asked if the counsel were ready for the trial independent of this stipulation.

Gov. Wells, for the prosecution, replied:

Whereas, in view of the absence of the Deputy Attorney, who is in a dying condition, the absence of the prisoner, caused by stipulation, and the absence of Mr. Evarts who stood in the position of more directly representing the Attorney General, the case could not well be gone on with. He suggested some day in October, when the Chief Justice could attend. The counsel for the defense refused to a postponement until next term, which the Chief Justice granted, saying at the same time that had the trial taken place in May, a year ago last fall, or now, it would have been more convenient for him, as he was ready to try the case. He would, however, attend next term, if possible. In view of his other duties, the witnesses, including Gen. R. E. Lee, were recognized to appear on the fourth Monday in November, and the prisoner's bail was renewed.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Morehead and Maynard, Republicans, and Niblack, Democrat, of the Ways and Means Committee, reported to the full Committee to-day a long bill for the increase and revision of the tariff, when Brooks offered the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, From five to fifty per cent. of the additional imports were imposed by the act of June 30, 1864, and the subsequent acts, to offset the internal revenue tax, and of the act of June 30, 1864; and, whereas, it was then understood and pledged that this additional external tariff was only to provide against and offset the internal tariff or tax; and, whereas, by an act of the present session of Congress the internal taxes upon manufactured articles have been abolished. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Committee on Ways and Means that in any new bill reported the duties on imports ought to be reduced, so as to offset this from five to fifty per cent. raised by the act of June 30, 1864, in consequence of the abandonment of the internal revenue or tax on manufactures by the act of March 8, 1868.

Allison offered the following as a substitute: "That it is inexpedient at this late period of the session to undertake any revision of the tariff laws, as to the correction of any legislation which may manifestly appear heavily or unnecessarily on any particular object or interest."

On motion, all these propositions were laid on the table, Brooks and Niblack dissenting.

After some discussion it was voted to postpone the bill reported by Morehead to December next, ayes 5, nays 4, which it is understood has disposed of the tariff question for this session except on some few articles, including copper and zinc. Lumber and sugar will in all probability not be touched, as requested by the refineries.

A number of disturbances occurred between the whites and negroes last night, on the occasion of serenading the Mayor elect (Bowen) by 5000 persons, mostly negroes, the origin of which has different versions. Two of them were injured and one killed, while several stores were assaulted and injured.

The delegates to the National Typographical Union paid their respects to the President to-day. Brief speeches were made.

Mr. Burlingame and the Chinese Embassy will be presented at the Executive Mansion on Friday, by Secretary Seward.

Admiral Thatcher has been placed on the retired list.

The following order was issued to-day:

H'DQ'RS ADJUTAN GENERAL'S OFFICE, } Washington, D. C., June 3, 1868. }

General Order No. 25,

The following order of the President has been received from the War Department.

[Here follows the order of the President published yesterday.]

In compliance with the instructions of the President and of the Secretary of War, on the day after the receipt of this order at each military post, the troops will be paraded at 10 o'clock a.m. and the order read to them, after which all labor for the day will cease. The national flag will be displayed at half mast. At dawn of day 13 guns will be fired, and afterward at intervals of thirty minutes between the rising and setting of the sun, a single gun, and at the close of the day a national salute of 37 guns. The officers of the army will wear crape on the left arm and on their swords, and the colors of the several regiments will be put in mourning for the period of six months.

By command of General Grant
[Signed] A. G. TOWNSEND, A. A. G.

In pursuance of the order of the President, announcing the death of ex-President Buchanan, the Secretary of the Navy has issued a special order, directing thirty minute guns to be fired at each of the navy yards and naval stations, on the 4th inst., commencing—and on board the flag-ship—in each squadron upon the day after the receipt of this order. The flags at the several navy yards, naval stations and marine barracks will be placed at half-mast until after the funeral, and on board all naval vessels in commission upon the day after this order is received.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Burr proceeded to congratulate the House, the country and the Democracy on the victory in Oregon, when Farnsworth called for the regular business and the House proceeded to the consideration of the Ohio contested election case.

Morgan, the sitting member, concluded his argument.

Schofield, Schenck and Davis spoke in favor of the claim of the contestant.

The previous question was then seconded and the resolution giving the seat to Delano was adopted by 88 to 35; and he appeared at the Clerk's desk and took the oath of office.

Woodward offered a resolution reciting that whatever diversities of opinion may prevail relative to the administration of James Buchanan, the members of the House can cordially unite in testifying to the purity of his character, his ability and patriotism, and requesting the Speaker to appoint a committee of seven to attend his funeral services, and also to communicate a copy of this resolution to the relatives of the deceased, which after opposition from Van Wyck and others was adopted by 80 to 16.

The following were appointed as the committee: Glossbrenner, Marshall, Eldridge, Blaine, Mickel and Trimble, after which the House took a recess until 7:30 p.m., when the tax bill was taken up in the Committee of the Whole.

Wood spoke on the revenue and financial system of the Government.

SENATE.

Wilson introduced a bill to remove the political disabilities of certain persons who have been elected to the Legislature and other offices. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Sumner offered a resolution which was placed on the calendar, and ordered to be printed, declaring the constitutional responsibility of Senators for their votes on impeachment.

Sherman, from the Committee on Finance, reported the following amendment to the bill reported Jan. 16th, relating to U. S. notes: "To strike out all after the enacting clause, and insert as follows: 'That any contract hereafter made specifically payable in coin shall be legal and valid, and may be enforced according to its terms, anything in the several acts relating to United States notes to the contrary notwithstanding.'"

Hendricks moved to take up the bill to make eight hours a day's labor in the Government workshops.

Trumbull urged the consideration of the bill for the admission of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Florida, but after some discussion, and without action, the Senate adjourned.

THANKS to our friend Felix Cross, Esq., of the Southern Express, for the latest papers from East and South.

A GOOD CARD.—The howl set up by Radical papers over "painting out" the faces of those two butchers, Grant and Sherman, from Patterson, Keck & Co.'s line of city omnibuses.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The children of St. Patrick's Church will give a picnic at the Ford Place, Chelsea, on next Wednesday June 10th. We will notice it further at another time.

PERSONAL.—E. C. Barbour, the well known insurance agent, has returned to town, after a protracted trip North and East. He will remain with us for a while, at least.

THOSE who wish to provide themselves with a house and lot at Raleigh, and near the Springs, can do so to-day. The Odd Fellows' Hall and lot will be sold at 12 o'clock to-day, (June 4th). Terms liberal. O. F. PRESCOTT.

AN INVOICE of fine Brandies and Wines from the well-known dealers, Vibbard, Fiske & Co., of New York, will be sold this morning by Mr. Cirode, Assignee in Bankruptcy of Conaway, Jones & Tate, at the salesroom of Royster, Trezevant & Co., Auctioneers, at 10 o'clock.

A REMARKABLE COLLECTION.—From the many bankrupt sales, Messrs. Menken Bros have collected over 5000 remnants of dry goods, from domestic and calico to the fine mull of India. We never saw such an immense variety of goods, of every length; and from the prices at which they are selling them, we would hint to our economists and hard times prattlers that they can buy them at one-fourth their value.

THE ORATORIO AT ST. PETER'S.—In spite of local notices and advertising, the idea has somehow been taken up that the grand oratorio at St. Peter's will come off on Saturday night. This is an error. It is fixed for Sunday night, when (D. V.) we hope to have a musical treat, such as is rarely listened to in these regions. Father Kelly will also, between the parts, deliver a lecture on Sacred Music, which we have no doubt will prove interesting to every one.

THAT HOLE.—We are informed that the stinking mud hole to which we called the attention of the Sanitary Police yesterday, has been reported by them twice to J. E. Helm, Esq., Street Commissioner, but that official, not having any force at his disposal, has been unable to attend to it. Meanwhile the hole daily grows more foul and mephitic, and there is no remedy. This is a crying shame, and we call on the Board of Aldermen to take some steps in the matter.

ST. PETER'S SODALITY SILVER BAND. We learn that the young gentlemen composing the Sodality of St. Peter's are most actively canvassing for subscriptions for their Silver Cornet Band. They have subscribed some five hundred dollars themselves, and now rely on the well known and often tried generosity of our Catholic public. All who have any pride in being able to say the church owns its own band, and who really love good music, will help with their mite toward this praiseworthy object, MISSISSIPPI VALLEY INSURANCE COMPANY.—The following gentlemen were elected yesterday Directors of the Mississippi Valley Insurance Company for the ensuing year: T. S. Davis, J. W. Jefferson, J. J. Murphy, L. M. Wolcott, C. P. Norris, F. W. Smith, N. Coronna, J. S. Menken, W. W. Schoolfield, T. R. Smith, Napoleon Hill, S. M. Gates, C. F. Smith, C. C. Partee, B. Lowenstein, Thomas Fisher, W. R. Moore, B. Eiseman, T. F. Mackall, R. C. Gist. At a meeting of the Directors, C. P. Norris was elected President; J. J. Murphy, Esq., Vice-President; and J. R. Stebbins, Esq., Secretary.

THE TOURNAMENT—MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.—We have been requested to call a meeting of the following gentlemen at the APPEAL Editorial Rooms, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, viz: Gen. James R. Chalmers, Gen. J. D. Ruffin, Col. M. Mageveny, jr., Col. James Coleman, Col. W. L. Stewart, Col. L. C. Haynes, Maj. C. P. Rambaut, Capt. Geo. Mellersh, Capt. W. H. Passmore, Dr. W. N. Wilkerson, and Dr. J. S. White. The meeting will convene for the appointment of officers for the Tournament. All Knights already entered are invited to attend. It is hoped that punctuality may be observed. The time is fast approaching for the grand trial in the arena for the several splendid prizes offered, and that the results may be most satisfactory, it is hoped that all the arrangements should be completed as early as possible. It will require but a short time to determine what is yet to be done, and its accomplishment will involve no delay.

RALEIGH BRAN DANCE AND BALL. There is to be an old-fashioned Bran Dance at Raleigh to-day, to which all the beauty and grace and manliness of the country and city are invited. There will be a grand Ball in the evening, where those who wish to assist in inaugurating the season at "The Springs" can delight themselves in admiring "twinkling feet," or participating in waltz, schottische or mazourka to their hearts' content. Trains on the Memphis and Louisville Railroad will leave at 7 and 11 a.m., and 2 and 4 p.m., and return at 6 p.m. Those wishing to remain for the Ball, can "Dance all night, till broad daylight, And come home with the gals in the morning," on the 9 o'clock train. The fare will be $1 50 for the round trip, including the omnibus, which will convey all passengers from the National Cemetery Station to the "Springs," and return in time for the several trains. This promises to be a most agreeable excursion, and will be acceptable to many of our citizens who will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity to pass a day at Raleigh.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

Extensive Burglarious Operations of a Night Watchman—He is Caught in the act of Robbing a Store, and Arrested.

Immense Amount of Stolen Goods Found in His Possession, Etc., Etc., Etc.

Merchants and others having stores and offices in the Adams and Jefferson Blocks, have been very much annoyed for some time past, by missing articles of goods, which unaccountably disappeared, and by being unable, morning after morning, to make the cash found in their tills agree with the amounts left there the evening previous. Among others that have suffered in this latter manner, are our friends Messrs. O. F. Prescott & Co., who have been missing daily small sums, varying from two to five dollars. They remarked that the abstractor never took any large bills, even though such were left in the till, and for this reason they for a time suspected some one of their own employees; but with the utmost vigilance, exercised during business hours, they were unable to gain any clue which would lead them to the detection of the thief.

The nuisance at last became intolerable, and they determined to set a watch at night, to see if by this means they could not make some discovery. Mr. J. P. Prescott, one of the firm, and the book-keeper remained in the store two nights on watch, by turns all night, and daylight found them each time sleepier but no wiser men. The third night, Tuesday, they determined to try it once more, and this time their perseverance was rewarded. About half past two o'clock, while they were rubbing their eyes to keep them open, they heard the door rattled quite hard, and a noise as of some one trying to fit a key into the lock. Soon the key turned, but the lock refused to yield until several vigorous kicks were applied, and the door swung open. A man entered, and carefully closing the door, locked it on the inside, and walked directly to the till, which he drew out, and then walked back to avail himself of the light given by a lamp which was burning outside, the light of which shone through the transom. While this marauder got well under the light, Mr. Prescott, covering him with his revolver—pulled trigger, but there was no cap on the nipple, and the weapon snapped. Again he cocked and leveled it, and again it snapped. On hearing this second "snap," the burglar sang out, "Who is there?" With this, Mr. Prescott again leveled at him, and the weapon exploded, but prematurely, the ball ranging wide of its mark. It however had the effect of frightening the burglar, who sang out lustily to his captors—for he had caught himself like a rat in a trap—not to shoot, and he surrendered at discretion. Judge of the surprise of Mr. Prescott at finding, when a light was struck, that the burglar whom he had captured was Joseph F. Wilds, the private watchman of the block—the argus to whose watchfulness the safety of all their goods and chattels was intrusted. On questioning him as to his intentions in thus entering the store, he replied that he discovered the key in the door, and being the watchman he entered to see if "everything was right." Mr. Prescott and his friend then marched their prisoner around to Adams street station, and lodged him in the calaboose, where he remained till yesterday morning.

Captain Simonds, of the 3d district, took the matter in charge yesterday and visited Wilds' room, No. 37 Adams street, over Wormeley, Joy & Co.'s, and searched it. Here he found the most comprehensive and bizarre collection of stolen property that it is possible to conceive of. Nothing seems to have come amiss to this voracious and accomplished thief. Lying around in the greatest disorder and confusion, were patent palpitators, corsets, bustles, revolvers, ribbons, laces, bar-fixtures, lamp chimneys, lamps, shades, silver cups, strainers, bolts of linen, blankets—in fact almost everything that one can think of—the whole amounting in value to many hundred dollars. The room was in charge, when the Captain entered, of a woman known in police circles as "Deaf Lize," whom he took in charge and locked up. The articles, of which a correct list is now at the Adams street station, are in the hands of the police, and will be shown to parties interested.

Wilds was taken before 'Squire Griffin yesterday evening and committed to jail without bail. He is well known in the community, and has hitherto borne a very good character. He was a soldier in the Confederate army, having been a member of the Crockett Rangers during the late war.

POLICE ITEMS.

—Henry Sweeney and H. C. Williams were yesterday arrested and lodged in Adams street station, on charge of having garroted an unknown stranger. They were taken out later in the day by a warrant from 'Squire Millard, who sent Sweeney to jail, in default of $2000 bail. The trial of Williams was postponed till this morning.

—Robert Turner was arrested and locked up yesterday for stealing from J. & J. Steele & Co. He will be examined to-day.

—The case of Edmonson was postponed yesterday until next Wednesday, on account of sickness in his family.

—Wright, who accidentally shot the negro at Flies' barber shop, on Monday, was discharged from custody by Judge Hunter yesterday. He immediately swore out a peace warrant against Edmonson, before 'Squire Black.

—There was an elegant little row in Happy Hollow yesterday between two of its denizens, Mrs. Cherry and Mr. Mahan. Both parties were arrested and brought before Justice Black, who will hear the case to-day.

—George Washington (shade of the mighty!) was arrested yesterday by a warrant from 'Squire Miller, for stealing four wagon wheels. He will be tried to-day.

'Squire Watson issued a warrant for the arrest of John Papers and one Wesley — something, for highway robbery. These two sable worthies inveigled a colored brother down to the bayou on Gayoso street, and there jumped on him, choked him until he was "black in de face," to use his own words, (which, considering he was so black that charcoal would make a white mark on him was a very expressive phrase.) They robbed him of $4 50, and he wants satisfaction. Case will be tried to-day.

—Thomas Riley—brother to old "one-eyed" Riley, was arrested yesterday for stealing 137 pounds of bacon from Ed. Cherry. 'Squire Griffith sent him to jail in default of $500 bond.

—There was but one arrest made up to 6 o'clock at the Causey street station yesterday. Twenty-five dollars were collected in the morning, and nothing in the afternoon.

—At Adams street station ten arrests were reported up to half past eleven o'clock last night, two of which were for "shoving the queer," five for fighting, two for garroting and one for stealing.

THE GRAND JURY — JUDGE WALDRAN'S CHARGE.

He Accuses the Police Commissioners of Embezzling the Public Funds and Appropriating them to their Own Use.

He Demands a Full Examination into their Iniquities.

Light Breaking.

To the citizens of Memphis and Shelby county, who have so long and patiently borne the outrages and oppressions of the Police Commissioners, who have seen their hard-earned savings wrung from them in taxes and levies, and squandered to buy up negro votes to fasten upon themselves the infamy of radical rule,—to all who have groaned in spirit, and cried out "how long, how long," to all who cherish one spark of love of liberty and hatred of the tyrants who are crushing us, the following charge of Judge Waldran will come as a gleam of sunshine might have come through the darkness of Egypt.

All honor to the upright Judge and honest man, who has raised himself above party prejudice and the tramels of politics, and boldly charged home their iniquities to these rascally officials. But let not the good work stop here. There is another nest of unclean birds—another Augean stable to clean. Judge Waldran knows to whom we allude, and let them, too, feel that the law is still mighty, and that its arm, though for a time paralyzed, still is powerful to crush the malefactors.

CHARGE OF JUDGE WALDRAN.

In charging the Grand Jury, at present in session, he called their attention particularly to the following:

"That every officer or appointee of said Metropolitan Police shall, on the first day of each month, file with the Mayor of the city of Memphis a statement, under oath, showing the amount in money or property that they have received or which has passed through their hands, as rewards for services, for captures or seizures, for levies or assessments, or in any manner, or for any purpose whatever, from all persons during the preceding month, giving the name of those from whom received, what for, and the date when received, and account for the whole amount thereof, before they shall be entitled to receive their salaries or compensation as such officer or appointee."

Judge Waldran charged the Grand Jury as follows: "I am informed by the Mayor that the provisions of this section have not been complied with in a singleinstance. No blame ought to be attached to the rank and file of the police force for the noncompliance with this act, when the Commissioners themselves are violators of this law. Unfortunately there is no penalty affixed to the violations of this section. The Code simply makes it a misdemeanor. It would seem that a decent respect for the opinion of one's neighbors, for public opinion, would prompt the Commissioners to comply with this act of the Legislature and thereby remove from themselves even the appearance of evil. I verily believe that there is not a candid man within the jurisdiction of this Court but believes that the Chief and the Financial Commissioners have been guilty of misappropriating the public funds—have been guilty of appropriating these funds for political and personal purposes, and there is not at this time any power under heaven or among men but you thirteen Grand Jurors, that can ferret out this matter and bring the offenders to justice. Every good citizen demands that you shall do this. The financial interests of the city and State demand it. Your oath requires it of you and the Court charges you so to do. You will proceed by the most direct route in search of truth. You will have brought before you the collector with the records of his office. You will examine the police records of the several station houses, and the public records appertaining to the duties of the Police Commissioners. You will examine those who have said records of the capture and return of stolen property. You will have brought before you the keepers and inmates of houses of ill fame; the proprietors of all keno houses, faro banks and gambling houses and those who have kept them within the last year, and you will say to them, 'Unbosom yourselves;' and this court will protect them."

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—Motions for new trials will be heard to-day on the Law side of the Court. We present the following extracts from the general charge of the Court to the Grand Jury.

[Here follow the extracts which are given in another place in the local.—ED]

In reference to the practice of carrying concealed weapons, Judge Waldran charged the jury as follows: "The law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons has been modified by an act of the General Assembly by an act entitled 'An act for the benefit of discharged Union soldiers,' passed June 6, 1865, which provides that 'all Union soldiers who have served either as State or Federal soldiers, and have been honorably discharged from the service, and all citizens who have always been loyal, shall be permitted to carry all necessary side arms for their personal protection and defense.' I believe it to be the duty of this Court to charge you, gentlemen, that you should give no heed to this act, unless you know of your own knowledge that the person who comes within the provisions of this act, carries concealed weapons for the purpose of defending and protecting himself against a second or threatened assault of some particular individual, unless he has reason to believe that he is in personal danger of bodily harm from threatened assaults of some particular individual or individuals. And with this single exception, you will indict every person who carries concealed weapons, and if you indict any one who comes within the provisions of this act, let him show the fact upon his final trial, or bring the matter to the notice of the Court.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—Meets to-day pursuant to adjournment. The docket will be called peremptorily to-day, and forfeitures taken against all parties that have not appeared and renewed their bonds. Court will adjourn to-day to Court in course, the second Monday in June, 1868.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

A very heavy storm prevailed before daylight yesterday morning. The rain fell copiously and the wind was violent, knocking down trees and fences in various parts of the city. It was clear at daylight, and during the day the sun shone. Towards evening a few clouds flitted overhead. The river at this point is falling very fast. The decline in the past 24 hours amounted to 18 inches. It has fallen 62 inches in all since the decline set in. At Cairo the Ohio is falling at the rate of 18 inches per day. The latest news from the upper Ohio will be found in our telegraphic columns. The Mississippi is falling at St. Louis, but a big rise is reported in all the upper streams.

Boats in Port.

Marble City, Norman.

MISCELLANEOUS.

For the first time, probably, within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, has our wharf been entirely deserted upon a day in mid-week. For several hours after the departure of the Silver Moon there was not a boat at our landing.

We are indebted to the Board of Underwriters of this city for a copy of the "Constitution and By-laws" of the Board.

We are glad to announce that our suggestion relative to placing a boat in the Vicksburg and bends trade without delay is about to be carried out. Some of our "live" business men have taken hold of the matter and are, we learn, meeting with success in raising the required amount to put a boat in the line to stay. It must not be understood that we are an advocate of Capt. Jno. B. Davis in this matter any more than any other man. We would take equally as much interest in it were some other person of as much energy as Capt. Davis possesses to make an effort to secure this trade. An "old merchant" who mistakes facts through the Evening Ledger, and who had a packet in the trade, but which is now tied up, evidently did not have either pluck or energy to stay in it, though he had this same mail contract which is now held by Capt. Davis. We know of no man in this community who enjoys a greater share of the confidence of our people, and especially our business men, than Capt. Davis, and when he enters into a contract there is every reason to know that it will be fulfilled. The following is the sum and substance of the paper now being subscribed by our merchants. In addition we may add that freights will be taken C. O. D. whenever necessary:

"We, the undersigned, merchants of Memphis, feeling the necessity of having a regular packet in the trade between Memphis, Vicksburg and the bends, do hereby subscribe the amounts opposite our names as a bonus to Capt. John B. Davis, for the purpose of sustaining a packet between Memphis and Vicksburg We also obligate ourselves to give the said packet our entire patronage, at fair rates, to the exclusion of all outside boats. In consideration of which, Capt. John B. Davis hereby binds himself to purchase a suitable side-wheel passenger packet for the trade, on or before the 1st of July, 1868, and make weekly trips the year round, unavoidable accidents only excepted."

The Julia will pass up on Friday for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Cairo Belle passed up yesterday. She landed at the coal pile, above town.

The Norman, Capt. Dickinson, will leave to-day at 10 a.m. for Louisville. Mr. Patterson is her chief clerk.

The United States mail packet W. A. Caldwell, Capt. Rube Haynes, will be in port this morning, and leaves at 5 p.m. for Fort Smith and all way points on the Arkansas. Jack Chambers is her chief clerk.

The Marble City, Capt. Conway, with Henry Corbyn in the office will back out to-day for Cairo, St. Louis and all way points, connecting with the splendid boats of the Northern line for St. Paul and the lakes of Minnesota.

The United States mail packet Liberty, Capt. Rice, is the regular White river packet for Saturday.

The old ex Confederate gunboat Selma, which vessel made a most gallant fight in Mobile bay, is now being fitted out for the Texas cattle trade. The Selma was formerly the Mobile packet Florida, of the Geddes Line, and is now owned by a company.

The steamer Princess, laden with Government freight for Fort Stevenson, was sunk in the Missouri river, about twenty-five miles above Lexington, on Sunday night, which is probably a total loss.

The owners of the Armadillo having quarreled, that boat will be sold at Pittsburg by the U. S. Marshal.

Col. J. S. Bosley, of North Bend, reports finding a hull and other parts of a wreck, supposed to be the ill-fated Magnolia, in the Ohio river, near North Bend. Another boiler has been fished out of the river near California, Ohio.

The steamer Sallie, of the Copelin line, arrived at Fort Benton on the 25th ult.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full-round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 d&wly

THE NATIONAL

COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.

The Capital is to be

$10,000,000,

In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE,

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 Per Share,

And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.

One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent. is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

25,000 MILES OF WIRE,

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

Nos. 64 and 66 Broadway, N. Y.

A limited amount of the capital stock of this company is allotted to this locality, and those having an opportunity, and subscribing, will be placed upon equal terms with its corporators, and will secure like interests in all franchises which have accrued, or may hereafter accrue to the company from any and all sources.

Stock may now be subscribed in this company at the office of

MEMPHIS APPEAL

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

BROWNSVILLE, June 3.—The following cases were decided in the Supreme Court this morning: Bowman vs. Beavers, decision affirmed; Nichols vs. Hood, executor, decision reversed. The Court is now (1 p.m.) engaged in the trial of the case of Memphis and Ohio Railroad vs. Dowell, from the Circuit Court docket.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The annual examination of the military cadets at West Point commenced yesterday, the corps passed in review before the Board of Visitors. The graduating class this year is somewhat smaller than that of last year.

The corps of naval cadets from Annapolis will attend the examination, near its close, in their own vessel.

George Washington, a negro boy only eighteen years of age, was hung for arson in Kingston, N. C., on Friday. He confessed his crime. So says a Herald special.

A Washington letter to the Herald says that Judge Chase recently expressed himself in unison with the Democratic party on every point except that of universal suffrage, and if he was elected by that party, he would carry out their policy faithfully and labor to make the party one of permanent usefulness, but he does not want the Presidency; is not a candidate for the nomination, and would not assume office at a sacrifice of his honest convictions. On the general issues he expressed highly Conservative ideas, favoring material Government aid to the Southern States, a general amnesty, and strongly deprecating the harsh measures of Congress. On the financial questions, he favors an early return to specie payments.

A Washington dispatch says Adams, in his testimony yesterday before the managers, denied everything said by Thurlow Weed relative to Adams' part in the alleged bargaining for the votes of Senators.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The election in Oregon, on the 1st inst., resulted in a Democratic triumph. The Democratic Congressmen were elected by one thousand majority. All of the county tickets are Democratic except Marion, which gives a Republican majority of three hundred. Portland City gives twenty-one Democratic majority. The Legislature and county officers are nearly all Democrats. The nomination of Grant and Colfax excites much enthusiasm among the Radicals.

New diggings have been struck between Rouge river and Yolice creek.

Battery F has been ordered to Sitka, from Portland, per steamship Active.

A dispatch from Gold Hill, Nevada, announces the election of the entire Republican ticket, for local officers, by forty to fifty majority.

A dispatch from Washington territory reports earthquakes at several points. The New Mission Church, at Tulalip, was badly shaken.

RICHMOND, June 2.—Gen. Stoneman issued an order on taking command of the First Military District, directing that all orders heretofore issued by the District observed, and all military and civil officers continue in the performance of their duties.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 3, 1868.

Rates of exchange remain the same as at our last, with very little doing.

Gold opened in New York at 140c, closing at 140½c. We have no sales to report of interest. Dealers buy at 139c, and sell at 140 to 140½c.

City Scrip is quiet. Buying nominally at 70 to 73c; selling at 75 to 80c, as to amount.

County Warrants are weak at 60 to 62c buying; selling at 65 to 68c.

Police Scrip steady at 85c buying; selling at 88 to 90c.

The Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville Railroad Company, through its President, Col. G. W. Henry, of Clarksville, filed a petition in bankruptcy last Saturday at Nashville.

Pennsylvania makes two-thirds of all the glass manufactured in the United States. In Pittsburg there are sixty-eight glass works, devoted in about equal proportions to bottle, window glass and flint glass work. Their annual products comprise 70,000,000 bottles, 600,000 boxes of window glass, and 3800 tons of glass ware—worth in the aggregate nearly $7,000,000.

France has sent two vessels of war to oblige the Bey of Tunis to pay the bills he owes to M. Erlanger and M. Pinard. The history given of the thirty-five million franc loan is remarkable. The two gentlemen named worried the Bey for two years before he consented to borrow their money, and then, after deducting nine millions for discount, commission and an old debt, they paid him twenty-six millions in his own worthless assignats.

The International Conference report on weights, measures and coins was recently called to the attention of the British House of Lords by Earl Fortescue, who complained of the inconveniences of the legal standards of England, more especially as the greatest commercial nations had adopted the decimal and metric system. Lord Overstone said the question of international coinage had been referred to a commission of such influence and authority that, if its report was at all unanimous, no one would probably object to its adoption. Before attempting to introduce a uniform standard of weights and measures all over the world, it would be better to establish one in England. He believed all the authority of the French Government had failed to enforce one throughout France, and he believed it would be totally impossible in England. The Earl of Malmesbury said there would be no objection to publish the report, but he believed that legislation on this question would be most difficult.

Cotton was firmer in the Liverpool market at the opening to-day; Uplands, 11¼d; Orleans, 11½d. At 11 a.m. prices had advanced, with market again firmer; Uplands, 11¾d; Orleans, 11¾d. It closed firm at a further advance; Uplands, 11¾d; Orleans, 11¾d. Sales 15,000 bales.

In New York at the opening, holders were still asking as follows: Low Middlings, 29½c; Middlings, 31c; Orleans 31½c; Good Middlings, 32½c. At noon the demand was moderate, and prices firm; Middlings, 31c. There was no change at the close. Sales 1500 bales.

There was some more inquiry in this market during the day, but sales were limited owing to the fact that no desirable lists are on the market, and holders' views are entirely too high. A few sales were made upon a basis of 28 to 29½ for Middlings, but 30c was asked for that grade in the generality of cases.
